

Are you looking to obtain your high school diploma?

- Earn a high school diploma
- Recover high school credits
- Earn college credits
- Prepare for post-secondary education
- Attend career technical education courses
- Attend English as a second language courses
- Enroll in workforce development programs

The College and Career Preparatory Academy (CCPA) offers a flexible path to graduation for young adults looking to re-enroll in an accredited education program, particularly those aged 18 to 25. Administered by the Orange County Department of Education, CCPA is a free public charter school offering a highly individualized program that includes online courses, independent study, small group instruction and necessary career readiness skills.

Even if you have a full-time job and family responsibilities, we can help. The College and Career Preparatory Academy offers flexible class schedules Monday through Saturday at locations in Santa Ana and Anaheim, with future locations planned throughout Orange County.

Your future starts when you're ready.

For more information, or to schedule an orientation, call (714) 245-6417

