CAREER EDGE

The Re-Entry Series

Saturday, April 15, 2023 Career Management & the Job Search Process

Instructor:
Katy Curameng, Ed.D.
Director, career planning development, University of Massachusetts Global

Here you will learn new ways to craft relevant, targeted and meaningful resumes reflective of your skills and experience. Re-align your thought process surrounding job search methodologies and techniques and expand your mindset with new exercises. We'll introduce the best current social media practices and preview the professional and personal assessments to be completed by participants for review during the 3rd workshop.

Participants are asked to bring laptops (if available) for class exercises.

Saturday, April 22, 2023 Wellness & Self-Care

Instructor:
Massiel Perez-Calhoun,
Ed.D., M.A.T.
Adjunct faculty, University of Massachusetts Global, and CEO of Do Well At Being You

Discover the value of putting yourself first! You need to be the best version of yourself to move forward. Learn the simple but effective ways to activate your personal power with a mind shift. Branding – what is it, why you need it, and how to put it into play.

Saturday, April 29, 2023 Professional & Personal Assessments

Instructor:
Edward De La Torre, Ed.D.
Assistant Director of Operations,
Chapman University;
Lecturer, CSU Fullerton

Explore the various types of personal and professional assessments and how to use them to determine your unique personality type, emotional intelligence strengths and communication style. These personalized findings can be used to help you build effective relationships in the workplace and further your professional career path.
